UNIVERSITY NEIGHBORHOOD PLANS SECOND ICE CREAM SOCIAL

MISSOULA—

The second annual ice cream social to welcome University of Montana students back to Missoula neighborhoods is set for 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 14, in the 400 block of University Avenue.

The event celebrates the diversity that UM students bring to the Missoula community and the University neighborhood. The goal of organizers is to provide a casual setting in which students and other residents can become acquainted.

The event will include free ice cream from Baskin-Robbins and Big Dipper, live music, entertainment for children and brief introductions of special guests. Students and all Missoula residents are invited to attend. Information about community and University programs and services also will be available.

While guests will not be charged for ice cream at the social, there are costs involved with presenting the event. Jane Bucks at 728-2461 will accept contributions, and there will be a donation basket at the event.

Thoughtful Neighbors, the group organizing the event, includes both community members and student leaders. Bucks leads the fund-raising committee, and Pat Simmons organized publicity for the event. Emily Miller, a recent UM art graduate, provided the artwork for public pieces.

Shuttle buses from the Associated Students of UM Office of Transportation will provide rides between the University Villages housing area and the ice cream social location.
